Jottings.

A calico party for next Friday evening at Smith's Academy of Music is now talked of. It will be an invitation party.

Forty-one bars of bullion, valued at $195,990 57, was shipped from the Con. Virginian to San Francisco Saturday night.

That saintly good man, the venerable Deacon of the Carson Tribune, was not a passenger on the special train to-day. Wherefore is this?

All parties who have ore which they desire to have milled will do well to glance over the advertised terms of Messrs. Jones & Kinkead, lessees of the Auburn mill.

Mr. Jones returned to Pyramid to-day. It is alleged that he rode the hoisting works of the Jones and Kinkead mine. We did not see him start, but heard a bray on the meadows some half hour after he had left town.

Stopher says that he has his flag hoisted on account of the adjournment of Congress to day. Some one called the battle of Bunker Hill into question and immediately the fire department flag was floated upon the breeze.

HORSE SHOEING.—We call the attention of our readers, and especially those owning horses, to the advertisement of W. T. Remington. This gentleman has opened a blacksmith shop in Kimble's building, near the new bridge. He gives especial attention to horse shoeing and contracted feet, guaranteeing that he can cure such horse's feet in ten or fifteen days—provided the heels are not cut away.

LATE TRAIN.—Yesterday morning the lightning train was two hours late. The delay was caused by a number of tramps piling a quantity of rocks on the track a few miles this side of Truckee. The engine of the west-bound overland was thrown from the track, but was not damaged to any considerable extent.

Special V. & T. Train.

This morning the following persons came over from Carson on the newly-refurnished passenger cars of the V. & T. R. R.: H. M. Yerington and wife, H. Hunter, James Crawford, John T. Pantlind, Henry Tickner and R. F. Pixley. They came over on a pleasure ride and for the further object of testing the new cars of the V. & T. These coaches are provided with the Miller platform, which allows the cars to come almost together, the coupling being made by the brakeman standing on the platform and forming the connection by a lever. The train consisted of a mail and express car, smoking car and a passenger coach. The passenger coach is the old special construction car, in which the C. P. "big-bugs" rode. It has been made almost new in every particular. The inner furnishings are first class. The seats are entirely new, the backs curved in the center for the convenience of old married folks, while the seat cushion is provided with the Cobb springs. The party returned at 2:30 this afternoon.

"PANT" MARRIED.—Mr. Jno. Pantland, proprietor of the Ormsby house, at Carson, and who was one of the gentlemen who came down on Sup't. Yerington's special train this morning, was taken by several of our citizens for a newly married man. He was arrayed in lavender colored kids, and generally gotten up like a recently spliced chap. One or more ladies gazed upon him in envious delight, and wondered if he hadn't married some homely thing, but then supposed she had reason to thank her stars. It's just such women's luck. "The men are such fools, sometimes—don't you think so?" and then strolled up street. But the one who would like to have her friend think she didn't care, managed to look back once or twice over her right shoulder (you know it is always bad luck to see the moon over your left) to see if perchance her optics might rest upon the genial good looking proprietor of the best hotel in Carson.

REDUCTION OF FARE.—Mr. Yerington will reduce the fare from Virginia city and Carson to Reno on the V. & T. R. R., that Comstockers and Carsonites may the more easily attend Mr. Norcross' races, at the State fair grounds on the 27th, 28th and 29th inst. This is very generous on the part of the V. & T. R. R. company, and is appreciated by the citizens of Reno and we trust will duly be taken advantage of by those whom it is designed to specially favor. Our neighbors from Carson and Comstock we trust to see in force, and can assure them that they will witness some fine racing and be treated with gentlemanly consideration.

AUBURN MILL.—The Auburn mill was not started up to-day, the reason being that one of the fire-walls to the furnace gave way last week, and the mill is now undergoing this and other light repairs. It will be started up some time during the latter part of this week. A quantity of Jones & Kinkead ore was hauled to the mill yesterday. Teams will be kept on the road constantly, for at least over two months, hauling to this mill ore from the above mine.

COMMITTEE MEETING.—The taxpayers' committee met this evening at 8 o'clock at the office of attorney Bowman. The special committee will make report. The public are not a little interested in this investigation of county affairs, and therefore the report in question is anxiously awaited for. As far as we are informed, these gentlemen will not shirk their duty, nor allow personal friendship to interfere from the purposes for which they were appointed by their fellow citizens.

JOHN HAS GONE.—Yesterday a Chinaman at Huffaker's was run over by a wood train and so badly injured that this morning he yielded up the ghost. Three cars passed over his left leg and right foot. Yesterday afternoon Dr. Dawson amputated the unfortunate's leg, but to no purpose. Ah Sin is now in the unknown land.

THE NEW DIRECTORY.—We received a call to-day from Mr. Chas. D. Hines, advertising solicitor for Bishop's directory, of Virginia city, Gold Hill, Carson and Reno. The canvasser started to work this morning and Mr. Hines informs us that the work will be completed by the latter part of this week. The directory will contain six hundred pages of printed matter, and will be filled with statistical, historical and other valuable information. It will be a first class advertising medium, which our business men should avail themselves of.

ADMISSION.—The admission to the fair grounds during the races will be one dollar. This will entitle one to all the privileges of the ground and grand stand, except admission to the "quarter stretch." Mr. Norcross has been at great expense in preparing his speed programme and providing one which will be of the greatest interest to all who attend the races at the fair grounds on the 27th, 28th and 29th of this month. He should be most liberally patronized, especially by the citizens of this county.

BRANCH SUIT AND CLOAK HOUSE. Weil Brothers announce to the people of Reno that they have just opened a branch of the Cleveland Suit and Cloak company. As they get their goods directly from the manufacturer they can, therefore, undersell all other Reno merchants and yet make a profit on their goods. We have no auction trash, nor do we propose to sell for twenty-five cents what is worth one dollar. We therefore take pleasure in inviting the ladies of Reno and vicinity to call and inspect our stock resting assured that we shall be able to satisfy them both as regard to price and quality of the goods. GENERAL WILLIAMS ON GEORGE CASSIDY AND THE DEMOCRATS.

General Williams was interviewed by a reporter for the Virginia Chronicle recently, of which the following is an extract:

In reply to an expression of surprise of mine that George Cassidy of Eureka, who was one of General Williams's bitterest opponents in the campaign of '74, should now be gently egging him on for the Senatorship, the General said he could understand it easily enough. Said he: "Cassidy wants the nomination for Congress, and can't have it without the consent of my friends in Storey county. He don't like me a bit, for I've spoken my mind pretty freely before now regarding him; but knowing, as he goes, that I am not a candidate for the Senate, he believes he can placate my Storey county friends by passing me on the back. Cassidy is a wily fox, but I can see through his game. I can tell him that if my influence amounts to anything, and can be exerted without putting myself much out of the way, Mr. Cassidy will not be nominated for Congress from Nevada."

"Whom do you think the Democrats can urge for the place, General?" I asked.

"Nobody, with any great show for success. My own opinion is they will allow the thing to go by default, as they did last time, and concentrate their energies on the State ticket. Jones, of course, wants to succeed himself, and unless one of the bonanza men wants the place, and is willing to put up for it a la Sharon, why Jones will not have any serious opposition. Jones has made a good record in the Senate, and Nevada might do a great deal worse than re-elect him. There are a good many Democrats in Nevada, however, who would represent the State creditably, but they haven't the means, nor the prestige to carry the State against Jones."

Poor Cassidy gets it on every hand. Democrats have united with Republicans in polishing him off, and his show for Congress, or any thing else, is the same as that Emperor Norton enjoys. Wonder if all this is done "to catch votes?"

A SENATOR'S SEAT FOR SALE.

[S. F. Daily Exchange, June 13.] The most important bit of news that we have heard lately, is that Senator Sharon is about to transfer his seat in the United States Senate to the present Congressman from Nevada—Mr. Wren. Mr. Sharon's private business affairs are of course no concern of ours, and we should perhaps not refer to them, but we cannot but feel regret that he should be compelled to dispose of valuable property in this way. We knew that much of his landed estate was for sale, and some of it—like the Palace hotel, for instance—is mortgaged, but we were not prepared to hear of his intended disposal of his valuable senatorial possession. The price at which Mr. Sharon's remaining interest in the seat is to be disposed of is not mentioned in our Nevada advices. The seat originally cost a very large sum, but that was when the senatorial market in Nevada was very much inflated, and privileges then were sold at higher rates than they could command now. Mr. Sharon's term is about one-third over, and that of course takes a third off the original value. It is not likely, therefore, that the present value of the seat is more than half, and maybe not more than one-third of its first cost, which would make it come at from $135,000 to $225,000. Mr. Wren is not a man of means himself, but it is supposed that a syndicate of gentlemen has been formed who have subscribed the necessary sum to purchase the franchise, which Mr. Sharon has been compelled to put upon the market.

If a man buy, shall he not sell again, and if it profit him to dwell in Spring valley, shall he then take himself to Congress? Surely not; for the pay is certain. And in those days it shall come to pass that bargain and sale shall cease, and even a resident shall find favor in his own country.

A few days ago, a green-looking couple, evidently newly married, called at a photograph gallery and wanted their pictures taken. Just as the operator had got his plate ready the man called him aside and said he wanted to ask a favor. "I was told in Carson you took the best pictures in the State. Now, you see, Sal and I got hitched down there last Monday; now, her folks are a good deal on style, and they live in New England. They never saw me, and if I send my mug back East they'll be dead again me, sure. I'm a darned sight better man than I look, and when people come to know me they vot me a brick. Now, what I want is to get some good-lookin' man to sit with Sal for a picture. Will you stand in? She's willin'. Them big whiskers of yours'll catch 'em sure, and create harmony. You look like a solid capitalist, and they'd take me for a petty larceny thief!" The operator enjoyed the idea immensely, and sat with "Sal" for the picture, which will doubtless carry joy into the household of the Eastern relatives in a week or so. Argonaut.

GENERAL CONNOR.

Some days since the Morning Appeal made mention of General P. E. Connor's name as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. Since that mention was made we have seen a letter written by the General, in reply to a note from one of his old companions in arms. He says in substance, with characteristic modesty, that while he is not a candidate for any office, and will take no part in the canvass for the nomination, that if he is thought available "to beat the rebel Democracy" he will place his name at the disposal of the convention. We believe him to be, of all men, the man to "beat the rebel Democracy!" We hope he may receive the nomination as the gratuitous and unanimous tender of the Republican party of Nevada. Grant, called from his retirement in 1868, saved the party and the republic. Connor, the distinguished soldier, called to the gubernatorial nomination in 1878 will redeem Nevada and save the party of freedom, justice and progress.—Morning Appeal.

General Connor has stated his position. The office, must seek him, which will never happen in Nevada. There seems to be a strong movement in favor of eastern gubernatorial candidates. What does it mean? Don't all speak at once.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Natchez has resigned his throne as Emperor of the Piutes, and his abdication was speedily followed by the election of Captain Charles, of Wadsworth. Charley mounted the throne, as a modest sovereign should, with his speech well learned. Said he, "This honor which you have now conferred upon me is almost too great for my humble merits. I feel the greatest diffidence in addressing you, but this I will say—that I hope to wear more paint on my face and a larger stick in my nose than any of my predecessors. I shall hold myself in readiness to espouse every female of the tribe on short notice. When trouble menaces, or traitors would tear down the flag seek for your chief, you will find him searching for rotten apples in Reno, or standing in front of Hatch Bros. in Virginia. I believe I have nothing more to say. Bucks in good standing will find dried rabbits and hog's liver in the banquet hall!" McEwen of the Republican administered the modified oath to Charles and the convention adjourned.

The San Francisco Exchange, marks the Virginia Enterprise, has settled the question of General Thomas H. Williams' aspirations for the United States Senate in Nevada. It now admits that there is no such stuff in the General's thoughts, and Messrs. Belknap, Hillhouse and Mitchell may now breathe easier. The Exchange says: "General Williams says that he has never entered a thought of making a fight for the Nevada Senatorship. Nothing would induce him to strive for it again—in Nevada. He has immense business interests that require his constant attention, and the next six months will find him pretty constantly up among the tules. He says he is going to reclaim those islands beyond the possibility of overflow, or 'bust' in the attempt."

The Appeal of Saturday says: Hon. O. H. Gray, Paul Mitchell and A. R. Nuckles, witnesses in the mail robbery case, left for Cherry Creek, their home, last night.

Messrs. Gray and Nuckles tarried with us, waiting for the east bound passenger train, and reported Cherry Creek as the coming camp of White Pine county. Mr. Gray is generally looked upon as a candidate for State office by many friends. He has formed no such intention for the present year.

When anybody, in talking politics to the editor of the Eureka Sentinel, uses the words, "your party," that gentleman inquires: "Which do you mean, my national, or my State, or my Eureka county party?" Or does your conversation have reference to my senatorial-election-year, or my off-year party?" Gentlemen who talk politics with the Sentinel man must take care to be explicit.—Renville.

They will twang the hew-gog in Carlson July 4th, and have selected the following named gentleman to explode the oratorial and poetical fire-works. President, Col. A. C. Ellis; Orator, Judge O. R. Leonard; Poet, Hon. C. Goodwin; Reader of Poem, R. H. Lindsey, Reader of Declaration of Independence, John E. Mack.

Austin Renville: News was brought to town to-day of a cloud-burst which occurred yesterday near here. At a point a short distance this side of where Washington canyon comes down to Rees river valley, a distance of about eighteen miles from Austin, an immense volume of water suddenly descended from the sky. As there was nobody living within the area on which the water fell, no damage was done, beyond the washing out of a piece of road bed to a depth of six or seven feet.

The Bannock Outbreak.

BOISE CITY, June 15th.—In military quarters preparations for the coming campaign are going forward quietly but earnestly. General Howard and staff are at Sheep Ranch, and Colonel Bernard's command are in the same neighborhood reconnoitering. The body of the stage driver killed by the Indians near the Owyhee ferry on the 10th has been found and buried. Experienced Indian fighters and frontiersmen believe that there is a general uprising of all the tribes and scattered bands throughout southern Idaho and eastern Oregon, and that they will be able to muster at least 1000 warriors. The Kelton and Boise City road has not been disturbed since the Indian raid on King Hill station, which occurred May 31st. This route is considered safe, and the stages are running regularly on time. The prevailing opinion is that the Indians will concentrate in the neighborhood of Stein mountain, and there either await the coming up of the troops or divide into bands for raiding the exposed settlements. A later dispatch says that General Howard's scouts report the hostiles concentrating at Stein's mountain, and the General is moving his troops in that direction. General Grover's expedition to Camas Prairie, with Colonels Sanford, Sumner and Biddle's command will be turned back and go directly to Stein mountain. Princess Sarah Winnemucca and the Bannocks arrested at Silver City as a spy on Thursday have been pressed into the service by General Howard. The report that the two Corish miners were killed by the Bannocks eight days ago, near Glenn's ferry, is now confirmed. The hostiles have recently made their appearance again in small force near Jordan valley. Old Chief Winnemucca and Nachez seems to have gone over to the hostiles. A majority of the Piute tribe are now on the war-path. A large number of hostiles are in the vicinity of Stein mountain. They are forcing the Piutes to join them. Several Nez Perces are with the Bannocks; also Eagle-of-the-Light. Chief Egan is held prisoner by them. Chief Winnemucca is reported to be captured by his daughter.

A Washington dispatch of the 15th says: The President and Secretary of War were in consultation to day upon the subject of the Indian troubles in the Northwest. Secretary McCrary read to the President a telegram received by him from the Governor of Oregon relating that the Indians were committing depredations on the Eastern border of that State, that the settlers are unprovided with arms and ammunition for the purpose of their protection, and asking the government to furnish them with supplies. The request will be granted.

Pollard as a Shoemaker.

The Advertiser, published at Woodburn, Mass., copies the report of the Pollard-Marancy affair from the Tuscumbia Times-Review, and adds: It has been learned that the Pollard who figures in this affair is identical with a Sarah M. Pollard who lived in Woodburn for some years, working at Simond's shoe stock factory. She was a very large, muscular appearing female, and could easily have passed off for a male had she dressed in men's garments. Some said at that time that Pollard was a man dressed in woman's clothes. She left here some six years ago, and went to work in a shoe shop in Stoneham. Afterwards she went to Binghampton, New York, (from which State she came to Woodburn,) and engaged in the manufacture of shirts, doing a large business. She became embarrassed in business and lost her property. In regard to adopting male attire, while some accounts give protection from arrest as the motive, other stories say that it was because she thought a man could do a great many more things than a woman, and that she could make her way better in the world than as a woman. Those who are acquainted with the Pollard girl say that they have no doubt the Nevada party is the same Sarah. The story is somewhat ridiculous in some particulars, but the Pollard woman was well calculated as to physique to accomplish just such a deception. Many people will recollect that she was called "The Great Eastern" by the boys."

General Sherman Startles his Democratic Friends.

The Democrats who have been talking of General Sherman for the Presidency are little startled by his recent West Point speech, in which he defended President Hayes warmly, declaring that while he appeared to be a mild-mannered man, if the time should come when he would be required to defend his right to his seat he would be found to have the nerve and determination to do it. The General added that the army was sworn to defend the constituted authorities and would do so, and the graduates of West Point were bound by their oaths to protect the government, of which President Hayes was unquestionably the head. These sentiments were applauded enthusiastically by the alumni, who were gathered from all parts of the Union.

Elko Jottings.

[From the Elko Post.]
The editor of the Reno Gazette asks the public to assist him in purchasing a pair of breeches, and says he has money enough to buy the pockets. What in the world an editor wants with pockets is a mystery to us.

A girl on Fourth street tells us as a great secret that ripe onions will prevent the lips from chapping. She says no chap will come near a pair around which lingers the fragrance of the vegetable.

A church blew down in Massachusetts last week, and three men were killed by the falling timbers. Ever mindful of the wants of our people, a kind Providence has at last raised up an excuse for us to advance for our non-attendance at such institutions. This is a terrible windy country, too.

When Congress gets through with the Potter investigation we can not get a special committee sent here to clear up the Howard mystery. If Washington correspondents can be believed, one bald-headed Congressman will find out in ten minutes what has been rackling the brains of our entire country for months.

Papers all over the country are asking: "Who was Casabianca?" If it is of public interest we will divulge the secret right here. It was us! Yes, we stood manfully upon the burning deck, whence all but us had fled, but have kept the secret faithfully guarded, ashamed of ourselves for only being able to save the scuttled jack of hearts from the entire pack. We were Casabianca. Upbraid us if you will, ye hounds of the press.

Collapse of the Laredo Revolution.

GALVESTON, June 15.—A San Antonio special says: The following dispatch was received at headquarters this afternoon, dated Laredo; from Captain Cunningham, in command: "I have just seen General Soto, commanding on the opposite side. He states that all the revolutionary parties are broken up or disbanded for the present except Escobedo's, who has a small force about sixty miles above here near Anafe. He has sent out a force to that point and expects Escobedo to come over into Texas to-night or to-morrow. I sent Lieutenant Fountain with forty men last night at midnight to a point opposite Anafe. He will be there to-night. General Soto gives a list of killed and wounded in the fight of the 9th as revolutionists killed seventeen, wounded seven, and prisoners twenty-three. The government troops lost one killed and seven wounded. The number of revolutionists engaged was 130, and government troops 105. He also states that Generals Salinas and Garcia Ayala, revolutionists, who were in the fight, are on this side of the Rio Grande endeavoring to reorganize."

Eureka Sentinel: Mr. Erskine, while walking up the canyon from Diamond Valley yesterday, saw in the bank, where the soil had been worn away by the water, the bones of a human hand and arm protruded from the earth. Curiosity led him to investigate and he found the entire skeleton of a man. The light hair was still attached to the skull, proving it to be the remains of a white man. He was buried about two feet deep, and there was nothing to demonstrate who or what he was.
